FARMVILLE

As soon as one firm vacates one of our Main Street stores another is ready to step in and occupy. Farmville is a drawing and staying card. The fact is scores of our people are positive] persuaded that there is no place like Farmville. Well they are not mistaken, for I know of no place of better social, educational or religious advantages and as a business centre it has few equals and no superior for a town of like size.

Public interest is unabated on the subject of hunting down Dr. White's assailant. Many arrests have been made and a bunch of his keys have been found and one of these is expressed that the real offender will yet be known. It is well for the man or men that suspicion did'nt point at him or them on the evening of the fiendish assault. The good doctor is himself again, and is so free from the feeling of vengeance that he says "if the brute will return my keys I will be content to give him one good kick and let him go." As soon as the fact of the attack had been given to the public, letters and telegrams from friends scattered over twelve states of the Union came pouring in and would have been followed by the presence of hosts of friends who were anxious to show their loyalty and love in a most practical manner. An old class mate who had not seen him for four decades, sent a letter, which brought tears to the manly eyes of the doctor, is the old story "if a man would have friends he must show himself friendly."

Washington's birthday was remembered at the Normal in appropriate and instructive observances in which the little children of the kindergarten took impressive and interesting parts.

Even the girls caught the step of the soldier and were made to thrill with his aspirations and hopes.

I happened in the auditorium of the school at the morning hour of worship on last Monday, when President Jarman, after making the usual announcements for the day, gave a short, sensible, practical talk on the subject of the "small pox scare." He impressed the young ladies with the folly of a panic and urged that they would not disturb the quiet of their homes by writing sensational and exaggerated reports of a threatened panic. I do not know when I have listened to a talk more pregnant with good sense. A calm, courageous common-sense is useful, not only in time of war, but of peace as well.

The legislature will fill far short of the line of duty if it fails to provide well and freely for this, Virginia's one school for girls.

Mr. R. J. McKinney, brother of the late Governor McKinney, is in his day one of the most popular dry goods merchants ever known in the history of Farmville, as well as a man of engaging and most attractive personality, has been confined to his room for many years with wasting and distressing illness, is now a great sufferer. His devoted unselfish and loving daughters watch at his bedside night and day, and the wonder is that they have'nt broken down under the strain. Mr. McKinney has been so long an invalid that the hurried age has made even his friends well nigh forget that such a man ever lived and loved. I never look at suffering like this that I do not doubt that our Episcopal friends are in error in embodying in their book of prayer one against 'sudden death.' His brother and associate in business, the late S. H. McKinney, was stricken at his breakfast table and lived but a few moments, while the brother has been allowed to live and suffer through the long, long, weary, weary years.

Our merchants are ready to meet the spring needs of our farmers. Let us hope that the mistake of planting too much tobacco will not be made.

Of one poor man, who has been arrested charged with the crime of waylaying Dr. White, it is already said, "he is'nt responsible, he is crazy and has been for years." And yet "Crazy Charles" still has the keys to our city gates and the privilege of our streets.

Miss Carrie Morton is having a delightful visit in the far West.

Miss Julie Venable, who has been visiting friends in Washington is at home again.

Mrs. Dr. Redd son is visiting in the home of her son, Mr. W. H. Robertson.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Gill were in Roanoke some days of last week.

The Rev. Mr. Frezel, of the Methodist church told the young men of his congregation in a recent sermon, how to select a profession.

It is now said that the Methodists, instead of adding to their present church building, will pull down and build from foundation up. They have the choice church site in town and will no doubt erect a building worthy the place and the people. The Presbyterians will make extensive improvements on their building too.

Some of our early gardeners have been selling lettuce. I bought some in the Richmond market the other day and the party from whom I bought it said it came from California. But in competition with Farmville, Richmond is'nt in it."

CUMBERLAND.

The old ferry is putting on new life and our people are busy, hopeful and cheerful.

The new bank is a convenience and my hope is that it will grow and prosper. If there is demand for local banks anywhere surely one is needed here, for have'nt we a growing tobacco market and the most active commercial centre in the county?

Red Rose Inn maintains it's splendid reputation and 'Charley' Diggs is still happy as accredited agent of Uncle Sam. He looks upon the morning's ride round the rural routes as a pleasant diversion and reaches home for dinner with a well-developed appetite and a digestive apparatus for which Rockefeller would give a "cool" million. It is refreshing to meet with a man so well satisfied with his job in life.

Hon. Paul McRae spent Sunday at home. He looks none the worse for his arduous work as legislator, but for a constitutional barrier he would come "mighty nigh" giving too much county time to the state's monthly term of court. So far as we are advised he has entered into no entangling alliances of a matrimonial kind since his sojourn in the city.

Mr. Garret, our new deputy clerk, is giving general and entire satisfaction in the discharge of his duties.

A passenger on the Tidewater & Western standing on the rear platform of a train as it stopped at the depot hallooed to a merchant on the opposite side of the street last Saturday afternoon, and asked the price of eggs, and on being told that they were cent a-piece closed out the whole market. "Cent a piece" sounds well for eggs, but has been an unusual sound of late.

Men Past Sixty In Danger.

More than half mankind over sixty years of age suffer from kidney and bladder disorders, usually enlargement of prostate gland. This is both painful and dangerous. Foley's Kidney Cure should be taken at the first sign of danger, as it corrects irregularities and has cured many old men of this disease. Mr. Rodney Burnett, Rock Port, Mo., writes: "I suffered with enlarged prostrate gland and kidney trouble for years and after taking two bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure I feel better than I have for twenty years although I am now 91 years old. T. E. Scott, Appomattox; W. B. Woodson, Concord; W. C. Nowlin, Spout Springs.

Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

All the blood in your body, passes through your kidneys once every three minutes.

Lookout for Backache.

Kidney trouble causes quick or unsteady heart beat, and makes one feel as if he or she had heart trouble, because the heart is overworked in pumping thick, kidney poisoned blood through veins and arteries.

It used to be considered that only urinary troubles could be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and immediate effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail.

Home of Swamp-Root.

Also pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.
